

Dr. Venkata Ramanaiah Solanki

Dr. Venkata Ramanaiah Solanki received his Doctoral degree from Osmania University, Hyderabad on “Ecological studies of two fresh water lakes of Bodhan Andhra Pradesh, India” and did Post Doctoral Fellowship from National Taiwan University Taipei, Taiwan ROC.

He worked as an Assistant Professor (c), Department of Zoology Nizam College (A), O.U. for fifteen years(2007-2022).

Formerly Dr.V.R.Solanki served as I/C Head, Department of Zoology, University College of Science(UCS),Saifabad, O.U. from 6-4-2022 to 1-11-2023.

Presently he is I/C Head, Department of Zoology, University College of Science (UCS), Saifabad, O.U. Hyderabad, Telangana.

His core research areas are Environmental Biology, Toxicology and Entomology. Published research articles in various International and National journals like Pesticide Biochemistry and physiology, Pollution Research and Environmental Monitoring and Assessment. NEPT journals, International Journal of Current Research, Pelagia Research Library. Currently his research is focused on water quality and metal toxicity of various urban lakes of Hyderabad

Currently his research is focused on water quality index and metal toxicity of various urban lakes of India and effect of botanicals against different insect pests.